Breakfast Hour

Week 1 - Welcome to Breakfast Hour!

By: Katie Sylvia

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

First of all...

What is Breakfast Hour?

- Review previous lessons
- Studying for quizzes
- Coding challenges with classmates
- Teaching topics that are not covered during lessons
- Whatever you want it to be!

Google Classroom

What is it used for?

Used to submit:

- Labs
- Projects
- Quizzes
- Capstone Check-Ins

GitHub Enterprise

What is it used for?

Sharing your work with the instructional team. You will be submitting links to labs/projects in Google Classroom.

Part 1

Setting Up Google Classroom

Steps to Submit

1. Go to our Google Classroom (bookmark this page)

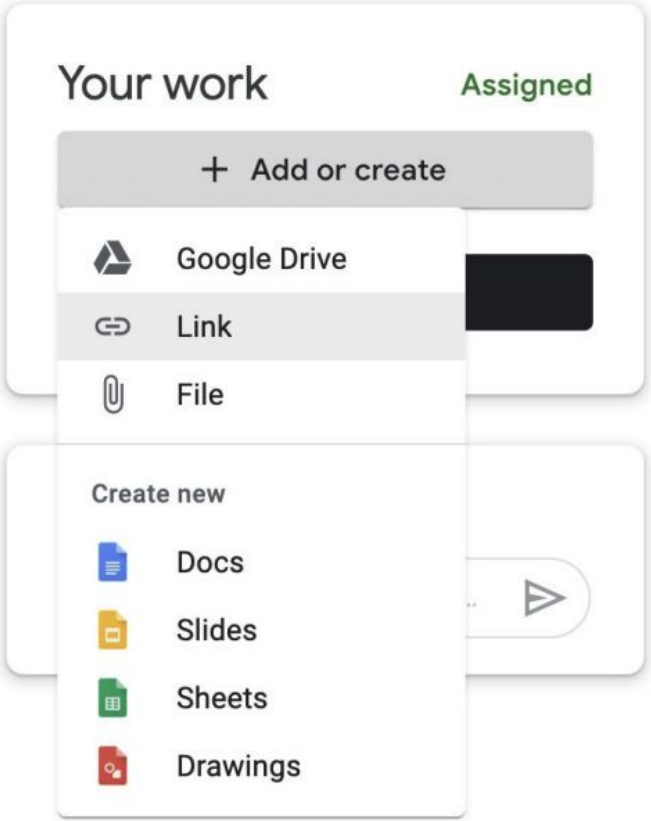

2. Via “Classwork”, find the assignment you are submitting

3. Click “View Assignment”

4. Click “+ Add or create” in the upper right

5. Choose “link”

6. Paste the link to your lab repo from GHE

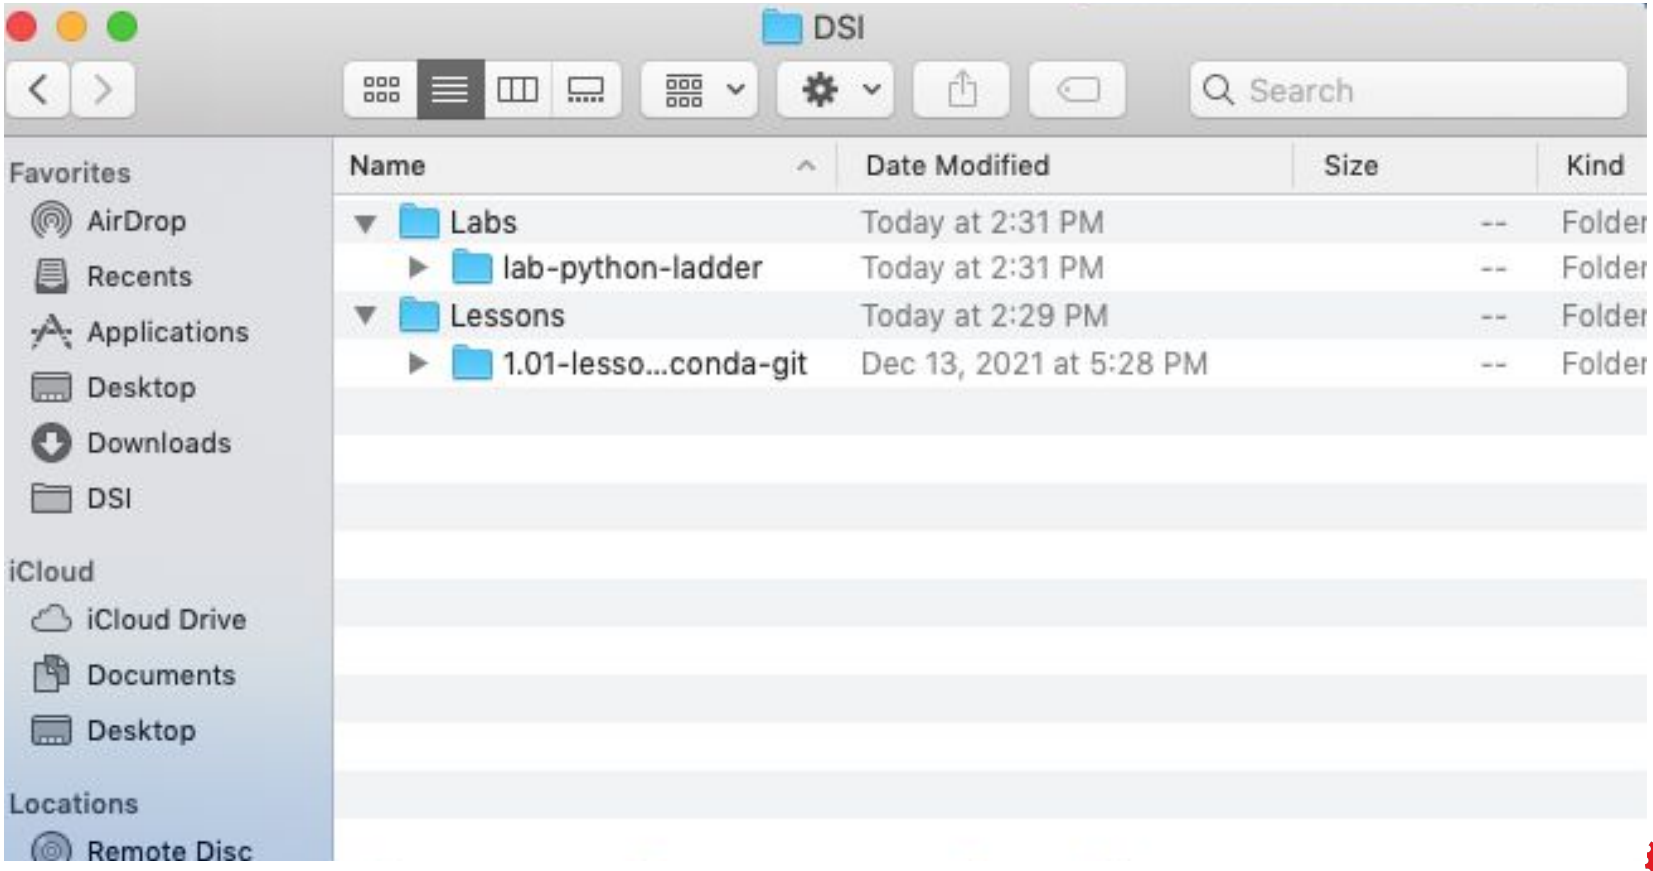

Part 2

GitHub Repos

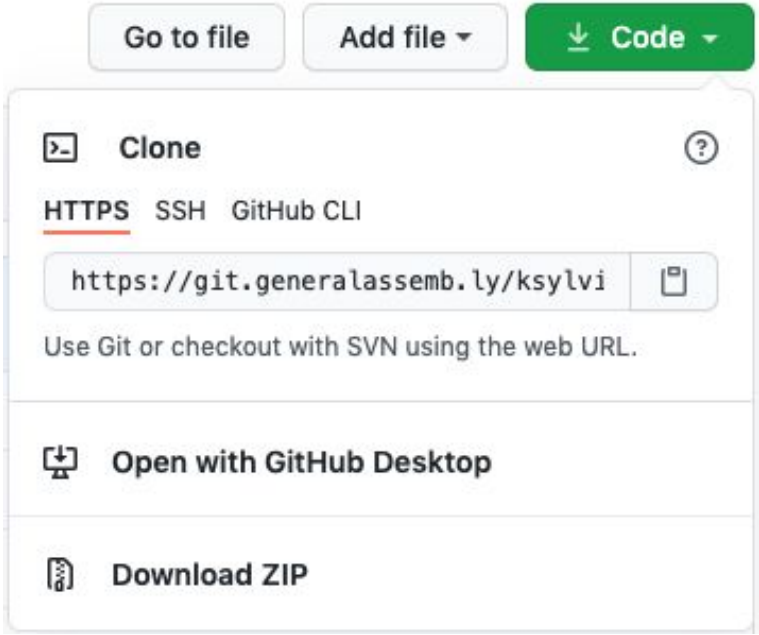

First of all... are you organized?

REMEMBER!

Labs

1. [GHE] Fork lab from DSIR-508
2. [Terminal] Clone lab into your lab folder
3. [Jupyter Lab] Work on lab
4. [Terminal] Follow the ~holy trinity~ of commands to push changes to GHE.
5. When you are finished with the lab, add a link to your repo in Google Classroom.

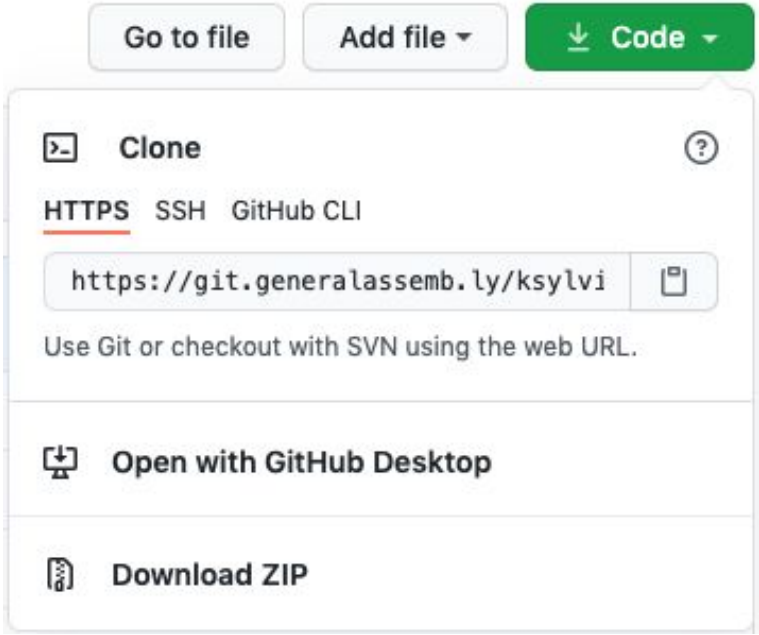

```
git add .
git commit -m “informative message”
git push
```

REMEMBER!

Lessons

1. [GHE] Fork lesson from DSIR-508
2. [Terminal] Clone lesson into your lesson folder
3. [Jupyter Lab] Work on lesson
4. OPTIONAL [Terminal] Follow the ~holy trinity~ of commands to push changes to GHE.

```
git add .
git commit -m “informative message”
git push
```

ALMOST THERE!

Let’s Take a Quick Look at the Breakfast Hour Repo

More to come tomorrow!

GA